Gérard

Chalet Gérard is a charming alpine retreat in the heart of the Dolomites, where authentic mountain hospitality meets comfort, elegance, and refined luxury. Located below Piz Culac in the Dolomites of Italy, every stay is thoughtfully designed to provide a personalised experience in an intimate setting, with breathtaking panoramic views of the Sella Group, Sassolungo, and the surrounding Dolomite peaks, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Founded in 1963 by Olympic skier Gerardo Mussner, the lodge began with his dream of building a ski lift and a little mountain lodge. Together with Helga, who brought the comforting aromas of Ladin cuisine, the family created a place where guests feel at home.

The judges were particularly impressed by Chalet Gérard's philosophy of meticulous attention to detail, tailored service, and a deep appreciation of local culture and traditions. Today Nives and Alexa continue the family tradition with care and heart, while papà Gérard works around the house and mamma Helga still warms everyone's soul with her famous strudel. An ideal destination throughout the year, the lodge offers hiking, winter sports, wellness, and peaceful relaxation. Recognised internationally for exceptional hospitality and unforgettable guest experience, Chalet Gérard remains a retreat where flavours, memories, and passion create a truly special stay.
